My Dream Job

Life without Aim is like a ship without a sea. My Aim is to become a lead software engineer. Studying engineering and becoming a software engineer has been a lifelong ambition of mine since I was a kid. I'm working hard to full fill my dream to become a software engineer to achieve my dream I must work very hard and spoil my mid night oil. I aspire to choose this field because I am much interacting in this field.

Asides from this, I know if I want to survive in this world then I must focus on my Aim to work hard to achieve this goal and I am on my path.
